MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

New Battery Recycling service added to weekly collections

Household battery recycling is a new service being added to our weekly waste and recycling collections across Milton Keynes from mid July onwards – look out for the small yellow collection bag you will receive with your next delivery of pink recycling and black refuse sacks which takes place between mid July and the end of September.

Once you have your yellow collection bag, you can start collecting used batteries in it and when you have several, simply seal it and put it on top of your green food and garden waste bin at the boundary of your property on your usual collection day.

Each time you leave out a battery bag, collectors from our waste contractor Serco will leave a replacement bag tucked under the lid of your green bin.

The scheme works best if the bag contains 10 or more batteries for collection, but do not overfill. Please include battery sizes: AAA, AA, C and D, as well as button, mobile, laptop and rechargeable batteries.

We cannot accept car batteries or similar but these can be taken to the Community Recycling Centres at Newport Pagnell, Bleak Hall and New Bradwell.

Household batteries will be collected at the same time as the food and garden waste but for safety reasons, it is essential that batteries are kept in the sealed bag and not put inside the green bin, pink sacks or blue boxes.

The UK currently throws away 600 million batteries each year, most of which end up in landfill sites. They need to be recycled as they contain acids and heavy metals which can leak into soil and pollute the environment.

To find out when you will receive your next delivery of sacks, visit our website at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/recycling to view the schedule or call the Environmental Services Contact Centre on 01908 252570.

See our website also for further information on battery recycling.

Look out for your yellow battery collection bag

Recycle worn textiles and shoes in your pink sack

What do you do with socks with holes in them, a torn shirt, worn out trainers or a tatty old jumper no one else would ever want to wear? The answer is: Put them in your pink recycling sack.

Community Waste, which runs Milton Keynes Council's recycling facility in Old Wolverton, is now able to accommodate worn textiles and shoes in the pink sack scheme so residents no longer need to put any textiles in black sacks which are sent to be buried in landfill.

Of course good quality textiles and shoes should continue to be sent to reputable charities. Just ask yourself would someone else be able to wear or re-use the item? If yes, please send it to charity. If not, put it in your pink recycling sack.

Textiles and shoes join aerosol cans, plastic food packaging and waxed juice cartons as new additions to our well established pink sack recycling scheme of metal cans, paper and cardboard, plastic bottles and aluminium foil.

Textiles - Facts and Figures

The UK buys 2,066,000 tonnes of clothes (estimated worth over £34,000,000,000) each year

52% or 1,081,000 tonnes of textiles is thrown away in landfill

UK rubbish bins are filled with over 1 million tonnes of textiles every year

The UK buys 2,066,000 tonnes of new clothes each year but only 498,000 is recycled – that's just 24%

On average, each UK resident buys around £600 of clothes each year and discards £300 worth

Production of a tonne of clothes takes 10 times more energy than that of steel or glass

Fit for nothing but the pink sack

Residential streets to see speed limit cut to 20mph

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

SOME of the area's busiest residential streets could soon have their speed limits cut to 20mph.

The roads in West Bletchley, one of the most densely populated places in the area, are used by commuters driving to the city, as well as motorists travelling to and from places like Bletchley railway station and hundreds of homes on the estates.

Residents have raised concerns for their safety, and reports of elderly people and schoolchildren being too scared to cross the road in some parts of the town have been sent to councillors.

On Monday night, West Bletchley Council approved a pilot scheme to try to stop speeding on some of these busy estate roads by reducing the speed limits, and say if the scheme is successful, it could be rolled out across the rest of the area.

West Bletchley Green councillor Tony Mabbott, who proposed the final area for the scheme, said: "The residents are very bothered that they don't feel safe and this decision comes following a succession of complaints about speeding from them – the very young and very old in particular are afraid to cross some of these roads because of the problem.

"Our research has shown on the majority of roads on the estate, between 20 and 70 per cent of drivers go over 30mph.

"Statistics show that you are much more likely to be killed or seriously injured if you are struck by a vehicle at over 30mph compared to being hit at 20mph. Speeding is one of the top priorities for all three Neighbourhood Action Groups (NAG) in the area and needs to be tackled. We owe it to all our citizens to try and make Bletchley a safer place. Hopefully, by the end of the trial period, we will have seen this scheme do just that. This is a vital first step on the road to safer streets."

The scheme now has to go to Milton Keynes Council for approval and if it is given the green light it will run for six months. Two of the roads covered include Whalley Drive which, as previously reportered in MK NEWS, has been identified as a problem road, and Shenley Road.

Brenda Hart lives in Shenley Road and is a member of the Denbigh and The Leys NAG.

She said: "The NAGs are all trying to bring the speeds down using a community speed watch scheme, but if there's a stronger element to get people to slow down even more that's great, particularly around schools as there's a lot in the area."

Fighting to make roads safer: Councillor Tony Mabbott

Roads that will be reduced to 20mph

- Church Green Road
- Melrose Avenue (between Whaddon Way and Whalley Drive)
- Rickley Lane

Taxi drivers targeted in knife-point thefts

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

ROBBERS have gone on a spate of knife-point attacks on private hire taxi drivers in the city in the past month.

Police are linking ten incidents - nine have targeted private hire taxi drivers and another has involved a pizza delivery driver.

The offences have taken place after calls to pick up customers in Chervil in Beanhill, Granby Court and Derwent Drive in Bletchley, Garroway in Coffee Hall and the Fullers Slade shops. Each time cash and personal property has been stolen.

In the latest offence, last Monday, the driver picked up four people, who all had hoods up, from Derwent Drive, Bletchley, shortly after 9pm.

When he dropped them off at Langland Road, Netherfield, at 9.30pm, he was threatened with a knife and had mobile phones, bank cards and £30 cash taken from him.

Detective Inspector Kelly Glister said: "It is crucial that we obtain evidence in order to catch the offenders. To do this we will need to conduct a forensic examination after an incident. We know this can mean drivers losing further money while this is conducted but it is important we have co-operation to assist in the vital identification of the offenders so we can stop further offences."

Anyone with information should call DI Glister on 08458 505 505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

■ A 28-year-old man from Milton Keynes has been arrested on suspicion of robbery. He has been released on bail until August 1. Another three men and a woman have also been arrested in connection with these incidents. They have also been released on police bail.

Taxi factfile

Taxi drivers are being reminded by police to take the following precautions:

- Ask all passengers to take hoods down
- Keep all cash, valuables and personal property out of sight
- Keep doors locked until the fare has been confirmed and the customers assessed
- Only take bookings from fares that have pre-booked and given full name and contact number
- If suspicious ask control to call fare back to reconfirm booking just prior to pick-up
- If you feel uncomfortable on collection contact police and request attendance
- Keep the amount of money in the taxi to a minimum and empty it regularly
- Keep cash used for change separate from cash from takings

What's in your pants? Brook MK and MK Lions are launching a free chlamydia testing service in the town

Free screening tests set up to tackle chlamydia

UNDER 25s in the city are to be offered a free, confidential chlamydia screening service.

Brook Milton Keynes is hoping that as many young people as possible will come forward and get tested.

Chlamydia affects approximately one in 14 people aged 15 to 24, however many do not know they have it because it often shows no symptoms.

The test is easy to take as all you have to do is 'pee in a pot'.

Screening teams will be out and about at a number of local venues during the first week of August, and the MK Lions are also supporting the initiative.

Free tickets are on offer for their warm-up game against Stony Brook University on August 18, all you have to do is take the test at the Lions arena on August 3, between 10am and 2pm.

For more information call 01908 200933.

Caribbean ball to highlight cancer

A BALL to raise awareness of prostate cancer among the Caribbean community will take place in the city on Saturday.

Owen Sharp, chief executive at the Prostate Cancer Charity, will join High Commissioners from Jamaica, Saint Lucia and Trinidad and Tobago to raise awareness of the disease at an annual fundraising ball in Milton Keynes.

The event, which is being organised by Friends of the Caribbean, will take place at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel Milton Keynes to raise funds for the charity.

Friends of the Caribbean chose to support The Prostate Cancer Charity this year after the organisation's chairman, Ally Clarke, was diagnosed with the illness in January 2010.

He said: "Despite the fact that African Caribbean men are three times more likely to develop prostate cancer than their white counterparts, there is a serious lack of awareness.

"There's lots of misunderstanding and misinformation in the Caribbean community, so I want to do what I can to help men feel in control about their health."

Tickets for the event are £60 per head and can be bought by emailing info@friendsofthecaribbean.co.uk, or calling Mr Clarke on 07831 867875.

Village named the best kept

A VILLAGE has been named as the county's best kept village in a regional competition.

Great Brickhill was named winner of the Morris Cup, for villages with a population between 500-1,500, in the Buckinghamshire Best Kept Village Competition.

Nearby Olney was runner-up in the Tindall Cup.

Competition chairman Richard Oushman said: "This year's competition has been very successful. We've had a higher number of entrants than in past years and the standards have been very good throughout, particularly in the care and attention paid to maintenance of churchyards and the lack of litter in the competing villages.

"Congratulations to all the winners – we look forward to honouring them on the presentation day."

The winning villages will be presented with their trophies on September 10.

Research fellow is detained in Tel Aviv

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A RESEARCH fellow at the Open University is one of a group of people being detained in Israel.

Les Levidow, pictured, a 61-year-old senior research fellow in the Faculty of Maths, Computing and Technology, is being detained in the Middle Eastern country after attempting a trip with 12 others to visit Palestinian families and farmers in Bethlehem.

But after landing at Tel Aviv Airport and presenting their passports on Friday, the group were ushered to a holding room before being taken to Givot prison and kept in the illegal immigrants section of the jail.

One of his fellow detainees, 63-year-old Mick Napier, chairman of the Scottish Palestine Solidarity Campaign, landed back in the UK yesterday after being deported.

He said their treatment was so bad that the group has gone on hunger strike, but that Mr Levidow is well and strong.

"We were not allowed to make any phone calls," he said.

"We made repeated requests to find out under what laws we were being detained, but this was also refused.

"We were kept as illegal immigrants but had no desire to stay in Israel, just to pass through.

"We were told we were guilty of something, but not what it was."

The Foreign Office said it is aware of the situation and expects the group will soon be deported back to the UK.

A spokesman said: "They have been visited by our consular staff, we have been in contact with their families in the UK, and we understand they will be deported within the next few days."

Fake JLS goods seized at concert

HUNDREDS of counterfeit goods were seized by trading standards at Friday's JLS concert.

Milton Keynes Council officers visited at the end of the sellout concert, at stadiummk, following various tip offs about people selling fake Foo Fighters items at their concert at The Bowl the week before.

In total 470 counterfeit posters along with dozens of items of clothing, illegally sporting the JLS trademarks, were seized.

Head of trading standards Karen Ford said: "There was a lot of activity round the venue with rogues trying to sell counterfeit clothing and posters. In some instances they just dumped the gear and ran away.

"Our officers worked diligently in unpleasant weather conditions to make sure not only the brand was protected but also that visitors were able to get safely and quickly away from the stadium."

The fake clothing has been destroyed as the logos could not be removed and the posters are being sent for recycling.

Anyone who spots any fake items being sold should contact Trading Standards on 08454 040506.

Councillor is in a spin over laundry service waiting list

CONCERNS are being raised about a laundry service for elderly and disabled people which has up to a four month waiting list.

The service, provided by Milton Keynes Council, is for people who have problems with incontinence.

Users pay £9.41 per load of washing, which is taken to a laundry where it is washed, dried, ironed and returned. This price has nearly doubled for the 430 people currently using the service and 12 people are on the waiting list.

At last night's full council meeting, Councillor Nigel Long, pictured, was due to ask portfolio holder Cllr Debbie Brock if there will be a review of the service and the price charged for it.

Cllr Long said: "This is something that comes to most in the end and it is a very difficult service. It is a good service but people shouldn't have to wait so long to be told if they can use it or not."

A council spokesman said: "People with the highest need due to incontinence always have an immediate service.

"For others who require the service for other reasons and have less urgent needs, there is currently a very short waiting list of 12 people who may wait from two weeks to four months. People who are waiting always have other arrangements in place for their laundry."

WWW.MKWEB.CO.UK

We need more information

SIR - I have read the latest proposed Risk Management Plan for Bucks and Milton Keynes Fire Authority and was disappointed that the consultation questionnaire did not explain what changes were proposed, just whether we agree to review a number of points.

After some research to try and find out about these proposals, I was shocked at the vagueness of this consultation and the impact these changes could have on local communities and their safety.

Please David Rowlands if you really want to consult on this matter with us, the taxpaying public, (MK NEWS, June 29) then have the courage to tell us your proposals and not waste our time and hardearned taxes to pay for this worthless and expensive questionnaire.

Maria Hopkirk
Cockerell Grove, Shenley Lodge

Traffic plans underway

SIR - Your report on June 29 about the extension of the grid road system is already nine months out of date.

After a year of negotiations the then Lib Dem council agreed in September 2010 with the lead developers (Gallaghers) to extend the grid road system into the western expansion area as follows:

H2 and H3 will be extended to meet the planned city street.

Space will be made available to widen these roads and to extend futher into the development if the need arises.

The existing V2 will be extended west of Grange Farm to join the H4 at a new junction.

The plans for new junctions with traffic lights on the V4 have been set aside in favour of roundabouts where the extended H2 and H3 will cross the V4.

Additionally the Lib Dem Transport Strategy to 2031 published this April and approved by the new council in June states quite unequivocally that (I quote) "Milton Keynes' unique grid road system and redway network will be expanded and fully integrated into new developments and regeneration areas".

Sam Crooks
Councillor, Middleton Ward

Ban a question of health?

SIR - Alderman Paul Bartlett's comments regarding smokers are astonishingly divisive and offensive (MK NEWS, June 29).

Although I am a smoker I do not wish to defend smokers' rights, however to read smokers being described as people who 'pass on diseases and spoil the environment' is very disturbing and sounds like a bad attempt to portray smokers as a much greater social problem than they actually are.

Rather than labelling smokers as demons in this way Cllr Bartlett should address the facts.

I agree that the habit of discarding used butts by throwing them on the ground is unacceptable, this is littering and is currently illegal.

Rather than banning smokers from the town would it not make sense to simply use existing litter laws more diligently in the town?

This should already be being policed by community support officers, and members of the public (including smokers) could help with this by asking people not to litter and pointing out the many receptacles provided for litter and cigarette butts.

Why create a new law when one already exists but is not being adequately enforced?

Cllr Bartlett goes on to talk about an imagined health threat to children from the saliva on discarded butts.

Since nicotine is a powerful antiseptic I would be very surprised if anyone could give me a single instance of a disease being contracted in this way.

Nevertheless if a person old enough to know what they are doing picks up a 'dog-end' and catches an illness they deserve everything they get. If a small child is allowed to play with litter in the street then that is a failing on the part of their guardian and a child protection issue.

By mentioning children's health in this way Cllr Bartlett is simply attempting to add weight to his proposal by emotive scaremongering that has no basis in fact.

There is no evidence that risk of harm exists from passive smoking in an open outdoor space. I very much doubt that smokers are really approaching Cllr Bartlett and blowing smoke directly in his face as he insinuates. I suggest that the fears he is attempting spread are entirely groundless.

Stony Stratford is a real success story for Milton Keynes, attracting visitors from the whole of the area who enjoy the town's shopping facilities and the nightlife provided by a number of pubs, restaurants, hotels and so on.

If Cllr Bartlett's toxic proposal goes ahead the only people to benefit, apart from him, will be the shopkeepers, publicans and hoteliers of nearby towns who will experience an increase in trade while Stony goes into decline.

Tim Smith
Bletchley

Plan would deter visitors

SIR - Please pass on to members of the town council my strong views on the subject of the proposed smoking ban in Stony Stratford.

As a resident of Stony Stratford, plus being interested in my wife's business, I see no benefit in banning smoking in the streets.

This would act as yet another deterent for people visiting our lovely town.

Paul Bartlett he has definitely got it wrong here. Cllr Bartlett may well be able to get a by-law passed but it doesn't take an eagle eye to observe litter in the High Street, yet we have bins - have they been placed correctly?

We have litter bins and nobody monitoring offenders.

Also are these not prohibited: riding bicycles on the path (sometimes at high speed), not only children, but more to the point adults - we have roads.

Mobile phones being used by drivers of lorries and cars going up the High Street - there is a law supposed to prevent this practice.

Local workers are not permitted to smoke indoors now and I observe that staff from many businesses smoke in the High Street.

Pub users smoke outside the pubs in the High Street, and drink. Restaurant visitors also smoke outside.

Bruce G Breaden
Stony Stratford

Let's take this further

SIR - I fully support Alderman Paul Bartlett in his views on smoking in the street and I too would like smoking banned in parks and on beaches.

Derek Hircock
Sent by e-mail

Smoking leaves nasty niff

SIR - I would like to say that I agree with this as I have now been an e-smoker for four months and even in the outside air you can smell smoke.

I think it would be a good idea for this to spread widely over Milton Keynes. The pubs or council could offer alternative methods like e-cigarettes as this has been one of the best methods I have found to help me switch from a 40-a-day habit to using a different method which isn't very well known, which has helped me a lot.

I feel as if pubs/clubs/shops/places of work were to allow it then it would be more widely accepted.

Jamie Duff
Sent by e-mail

Cigarettes make tax cash

SIR - I read in your newspaper that there could be a smoking ban in Stony Stratford.

As a smoker I do not see why the Government and council want to ban smoking in certain places.

Cigarettes will still be available to buy in Stony, so what's the point?

What about people who live in flats in Stony that don't allow them to smoke?

Why not ban smoking altogether instead? It's like giving a homeless man a tin of baked beans but no tin opener.

The only reason smoking is still allowed is because the Government gets too much money from it.

If it truly wanted people to not smoke then it would stop selling cigarettes, tobacco, and cigars altogether.

This is just the views of a smoker and MK NEWS reader. I do hope they stop being so silly!

Benji Wright
Sent by e-mail

Littering is an offence

SIR - I read with interest your article about trying to ban smoking and prevent cigarette butts littering the place.

A lot of it is just sheer laziness - there are bins with ashtrays on them, or you can buy biodegradable ashtrays which can be thrown in the bin.

What about the people in the city centre, especially those who deliberately throw rubbish?

Something's got to be done, it's disgusting.

Litter throwing is an offence. Start fining them, you'd have a field day.

Three remanded in connection with shooting

THREE men charged in connection with the shooting murder of two teenagers in Fishermead appeared at Luton Crown Court yesterday.

Mohamed Abdi Farah, 19, and his 18-year-old friend Amin Ahmed Ismail were shot dead in an alleyway off Fishermead Boulevard on May 26.

Yahya Harun, 20, from Fishermead, Sharmake Abdulkadir, 20, from Springfield, and Fuad Awale, 23, also from Milton Keynes, are all charged with conspiracy to murder.

Mr Abdulkadir has also been charged with possession of a firearm with intent to endanger life.

The charges were not put to the three, who appeared in the dock flanked by seven custody officers. Harun was assisted during the hearing by a Somalian interpreter.

They are due back at the same court on October 14 to enter their pleas.

As part of the administrative hearing they were told their trial, which is expected to last four weeks, will not take place until February next year.

They were remanded in custody and there were no applications for bail.

A 'CRAZED madman' went on a rampage in the middle of the day attacking a store's boss after it was thought he had been shoplifting.

Monkston Park Budgens manager Lee Cherry was alerted to the man at about 1.30pm on Saturday after another customer thought she saw him putting a drink under his shirt.

Mr Cherry went to speak to him, but the man started becoming confrontational and agressive.

Mr Cherry, 31, walked away and the man started to follow him towards the warehouse at the back of the store, where Mr Cherry held the swing door shut.

He said: "He kept swinging at me as he was following me, so I went out the back and thought that would stop him. He stood on the other side and started to punch his way through. He was just punching and barging with his shoulder, I didn't think I could hold it.

"He managed to get his body round the door and he just came at me and pinned me down on the floor. I managed to flip him over and he just kept twisting round to punch me.

"There was a cage of fruit and vegetables near us and he was bashing his head against it.

Victim: Lee Cherry, manager of Budgens

"He had blood all over his face and hands but nothing was stopping him."

Mr Cherry ran out of the warehouse and was charged by the man and his shirt was ripped off. He then tried to contain him inside the store by holding the front glass door closed but this did not stop him. The attacker repeatedly punched the glass.

Mr Cherry said: "He forced his way through that door too and spent the next ten minutes chasing me around cars parked outside. For some reason he took his shirt off. I couldn't believe what he was doing, he was completely out of control.

"He was just on a rampage, covered in blood and intent on me. Luckily I only got bruised ribs and a cut on my arm. He was like a crazed madman."

Vansliw Lee, 27, of Hemel Hempstead, was charged with criminal damage and a public order offence.

He appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court yesterday and his case was adjourned until August 9 for a pre-sentence report.

Smoking campaign takes to the streets

A PROTEST has been organised by opponents to the proposed smoking ban in Stony Stratford.

On Saturday between 11am and 1pm, The Vaults Bar in the town will be filled with opponents from groups including Big Brother Watch, Forest and UKIP, with Nigel Farage expected to address the crowd.

A group called Stub Out The Stony Stratford Smoking Ban has been set up on Facebook to arrange the meet.

Meanwhile, proposer Alderman Paul Bartlett has said he expects the date of the meeting to discuss the ban will be moved to September as his opponents' arguments are 'flimsy' and they need more time to prepare.

He said: "They really ought to treat the subject more seriously, because they are judging it on passion rather than reality.

"I'm a little bit annoyed because I'm ready to go, but I want the debate to be full and proper."

Casino plan moves another step closer after meeting

PLANS to build a casino in the city are one step closer after the council granted a 'provisional statement' for a site at Xscape.

This means that Xscape, along with three other applicants, will be able to apply to the second planning stage and give more detailed proposals for their casinos before battling it out to win the final licence.

At a meeting of Milton Keynes Council's sub-licensing committee last Tuesday objections by CMK Town Council and pressure group Xplain against the casino being built behind Xscape were heard.

Both believe awarding the licence would create higher crime levels and there would be issues with protecting children and vulnerable people.

Since 2008, three possible sites have been earmarked by developers who have applied for a casino license - Xscape, stadiummk, and the Leisure Plaza.

The council hopes to be able to grant the large casino premises licence in November/December.

Headteachers question 'appalling' and 'messy' marking on SATs exams

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

HEADTEACHERS at city primary schools have 'a lack of trust' in the SATs marking system after the recent round of exams.

And the Department for Education (DfE) has been criticised for 'appalling' and 'messy' marking by one school governor after it returned a high number of pupils' writing exam papers with significantly different grades to those the teachers originally gave.

Every year, pupils aged 11 have to take the tests and a select number of papers are then chosen to be sent to the DfE for verification after being marked by teachers. But this year many heads are questioning the way in which the papers are moderated.

James Bailey, headteacher at Meadfurlong School in Fishermead, said: "There are colleague heads of mine who are complaining that the writing papers' marking is extremely suspect.

"There's a lack of trust with the robustness of the marking system."

Lib Dem councillor Andy Maric, a governor of Tickford Park Primary School in Newport Pagnell, said nearly half of the school's verified literacy papers did not meet the national average.

He added: "Some of the marking we got back from these verifiers, whoever they might be, was appalling, along with it being really hard to read and messy. They had also been crossing their own markings out, as if to say they were not confident with the first mark they put down."

He is now calling on the DfE to admit there is a problem and look into the issue.

A DfE spokesman said: "Key Stage 2 test markers, who are practising or retired teachers, receive thorough training and undergo a number of quality checks through the marking process.

"Schools which disagree with the results for any pupils are able to request a review of the marking. These reviews play an important part in quality assuring pupils' results."

Pedal power: Crista La Rocca is doing a London to Paris cycle ride to raise cash to support children who suffer from cancer

Crista's cycle challenge to help children with cancer

A WOMAN who lost her father to cancer when she was five years old is getting on her bike to support children who are affected by the disease.

Crista La Rocca, a 23-year-old student from Furzton, will be riding from London to Paris to raise money for Children with Cancer UK, after she experienced first-hand the affects of losing a family member at a young age.

"After my father died when I was five, I realised that there's not much out there to help children with cancer," she said.

"I wanted to do something to raise awareness of the children affected. This is the first time I've done something like this. I'm not much of a cyclist, but I'm training every day, doing about two to three hours of bike riding and then stretches.

"My goal is to raise between £1,500 and £2,000 over the next three months."

Crista sets off on September 21 for four days. Anyone wishing to donate can visit http://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/CristaLaRocca.

Campaign to drive down thefts from city vehicles

A CAMPAIGN to reduce thefts from cars in Milton Keynes has been relaunched.

The Clear Car campaign aims to alert motorists to the fact they have left their car vulnerable to thieves by leaving valuables on show.

About 30 per cent of thefts from vehicles in the city take place from cars which have been left unlocked by their owners.

Whenever officers see a car unlocked or with valuables on show they will record the vehicle's details, along with the time and place it was seen and what was on display.

Owners will then receive a visit from a Police Community Support Officer or a letter giving them crime prevention advice.

Kama Wager, crime reduction advisor, said: "It is extremely frustrating that almost one third of thefts take place from vehicles left unlocked, whether that is while motorists pay for fuel, leave their car to warm up or just forget to lock it. In addition, we know the vast majority of thieves also target vehicles in which valuables - sat navs, cash, handbags, laptops or mobile phones - have been left on show."

Since January 1 there have been 832 thefts from motor vehicles in Milton Keynes.

Young artists brighten up maternity waiting area

A DRAB and dreary waiting room for pregnant women at Milton Keynes Hospital has been brightened up with student artwork.

Twenty-one Year 11 Btec students from The Milton Keynes Academy worked together on designs for the colourful collage which is now on permanent display in the Maternity Outpatients waiting area.

Superintendent sonographer Veronica Gordon said: "The waiting area was not a pleasant place to sit, but this artwork has really improved it. I love it and it inspires me."

Ryan Ashley, 16, who worked on the piece, said: "It was interesting working on the project and the final result looks better than I had imagined. It is bright, powerful and looks good."

Artist Helen Taylor, of MK Arts for Health, commissioned the artwork and spent time with the young artists, helping them to create designs on the theme of 'happy and healthy'.

Police will charge their new vehicle

New motor: Chief Inspector Ed McLean with the force's new car

IN A bid to cut emissions by 30 per cent Thames Valley Police has invested in its first electric car.

The Mitsubishi i-MiEV car will be used by neighbourhood officers and Police Community Support Officers in Milton Keynes to attend pre-arranged meetings. It will not be used as a response vehicle or to attend 999 calls.

It is thought Thames Valley is the first force in the country to use such a car.

In March Milton Keynes became the first 'plugged in place' in the country when it unveiled six electric car charging points.

The city, which will have 150 charging points over the next three years, was one of the first three places in the UK to receive Government funding.

The vehicle, which cost in the region of £19,000, was more expensive than the standard diesel cars used by the force, but the police say fuel savings mean that within five years it should result in savings.

Chief Inspector Ed McLean said: "The force has committed to cutting CO2 emissions by 30 per cent by 2015 and the use of electric cars could prove to be fundamental to our success in achieving this.

"Milton Keynes is an ideal place for this vehicle to be used because it is a compact area. It will do around 80 miles with a six hour charge, which is plenty for an average day of visits in a neighbourhood.

"We will be monitoring how the car performs over the next few months to see whether electric cars could be used more widely."

Till trouble causes long delay for fuel

DRIVERS faced a long wait for fuel at Kingston Tesco's petrol station on Monday.

Vehicles queued out of the forecourt as only one till was working and the pay at pump system was down.

A spokesman said: "One of our tills broke down and an engineer was immediately called to fix the problem.

"Unfortunately this took the majority of the day to resolve and was further exacerbated when our pay at pump system experienced a technical glitch."

Waiting: Cars on the forecourt of Tesco

Top of the class for improving schools

MILTON Keynes Council has been named Local Authority of the Year at a recent Best of British Schools Awards.

The council's Children and Young People's Services beat other finalists Southwark and Sheffield councils to the top award from the British Council for School Environment (BCSE), which recognises the work carried out by local authorities to create world class learning environments.

The council's award-winning submission outlined the creation of the Milton Keynes Academy and Brooklands Farm Primary school, programme management arrangements and innovative stakeholder engagement initiatives.

More than 100 entries vied for top slots at the awards, held as part of National School Environments Week, with winners announced at a ceremony in London on June 22.

Ty Goddard, director of the BCSE, said: "Milton Keynes Council has overcome some significant challenges and delivered some brilliant schools."

The award comes after the council was rated as one of the top four most improved in the country for children's services following the publication of the Ofsted annual assessment in December.

Councillor Andy Dransfield, who is the cabinet member responsible for Children and Young People, said: "This is an important award for Milton Keynes and recognises that we are well placed to meet the challenge of building schools that are fit for purpose and are also affordable in the current economic climate."

£2.7m Station Square revamp plan unveiled

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

Station Square: Due to be transformed

PLANS to transform Station Square into a 'gateway' for the city have been unveiled.

Work is due to start in August on the £2.7 million project outside Milton Keynes Central railway station.

The views of the local community and other interested parties have been taken into account, with the local authority promising a number of benefits once the work is complete.

Better pedestrian access, improved and additional cycle shelters, a new bus stop area, a dedicated pick up and drop off area, the complete resurfacing of carriageways and separate facilities for taxis will all be provided.

Cllr John Bint, cabinet member with responsibility for transport, said: "I am delighted that these much needed improvement works to Station Square are soon to start.

"Station Square is for many a first impression for visitors, therefore it is crucial to incorporate a fit for purpose gateway providing easy access to the city and beyond.

"We will endeavour to minimise any disruption during the construction period, however it is inevitable that some disruption will occur.

"We hope that by working with and keeping Station Square businesses and users informed, these disruptions can be kept to a minimum."

Funds for the work have been awarded to Milton Keynes Council by central government, through the Growth Area Fund, and there have also been developer funding contributions.

Contractor Ringway has been appointed to carry out the works, which the council says has 'extensive experience in carrying out similar project-s'.

Park flasher tried to grab his victim

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE would like to speak to this man after he flashed a woman before trying to grab her at a Milton Keynes park.

At about 6.25pm on July 5, a 20-year-old woman was sat on the swings in the park in Coffee Hall when a man walked past her. He then returned but walked away. He returned a third time and approached her, exposing himself.

The man then reached out to grab the victim but she ran away and he went off towards the V6.

The victim then saw another man on a bike wearing a bright blue top, who also passed the suspect on the Redway.

The cyclist was travelling towards the Milton Keynes College area in Leadenhall.

PC Samantha Pearce said: "There were a number of people in the area but not immediately near to the offence.

"I would like to speak to anyone who was in the area who remembers seeing this man or anyone who can identify him.

"I am also appealing for the cyclist who passed the suspect on the Redway to come forward and speak to police."

The suspect is white, of medium build, between 25 and 35 years old, 5ft 9ins and has blonde or brown hair which is short on the back and sides. He was wearing a white t-shirt with blue writing on the front, possibly with another colour on it, light blue jeans and white trainers.

Anyone with information can call PC Pearce on 0845 8 505 505.

Libraries in spotlight

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A REVIEW group has been set up to look at how the city's library service is being run.

But one support group believes decisions have already been made about their library's closure.

The newly-formed Library Citizen Review Group has already held two of its three workshop meetings and is made up of writers, readers and researchers, students and learners and users of libraries representing communities across Milton Keynes.

Councillor David Hopkins, responsible for libraries, said: "This review is about working with local people to see how best we can take the library service forward to meet the changing demands and challenges of the future."

But Friends of Woburn Sands Library is angry at the review, as it says no consideration is being given to their service remaining in the council's hands, and other models of operation are not something it supports.

Spokesman Nick Connors said: "We object to the very restricted, already predecided models, which are either outsourcing the service or having it volunteer-run."

A council spokesman said: "We recognise that we need to work differently to achieve a sustainable library service for the people of Milton Keynes in future years, but with less funding.

"So we are looking at ways to achieve this in a well-considered and engaging way, and we are inviting ideas from a range of groups and individuals to get the debate going and explore different approaches.

"The Citizen review group, made up of members of the public who have volunteered their time and input into developing possible options for the future of the library service, is one of the ways in which the council is listening to ideas.

"At last week's Citizen review group we heard how other councils, trusts and community libraries are running their libraries. This was very interesting and showed the strengths and weaknesses of different models.

"The presentations generated some open and frank exchanges between the review group too.

"The cabinet member for libraries, Cllr David Hopkins, attended to take questions and he went on to make the point that we need to be more innovative and think differently about how we can make the library assets work harder."

£60,000 cash boost for Iron Trunk project

A 200-YEAR-OLD landmark will be getting a facelift after residents voted for it to win £60,000 of Lottery funding.

Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council's Happy Birthday Iron Trunk project was the winner of the Jubilee People's Millions vote to find deserving community projects, and the aqueduct, pictured, will now undergo a major transformation.

Hilary Saunders, chairman of the council, said: "We are absolutely thrilled that we have won this award and really want to thank everyone who supported us and voted for this fantastic project."

Offender work nets college top honour

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes College, in partnership with Thames Valley Probation Trust, has won a prestigious national award for its work in helping offenders gain qualifications and find jobs.

They beat off competition from more than 100 nominations across the country to win the highly-coveted Howard League for Penal Reform annual community award.

The team attended a ceremony in London where TV personality and Private Eye editor Ian Hislop, a lifelong supporter of Howard League, presented them with the award.

Milton Keynes College is part of the Bridge to Employment initiative which works with the Probation Trust to provide individualised training programmes that enable offenders to access mainstream education and training, gain qualifications and enter the workplace.

Sally Alexander, director of curriculum at the college, said: "Over the last five years, we have engaged with more than 1,300 offenders, developed their personal and vocational skills, helped them achieve more than 1,100 qualifications and supported them into employment.

Winners: Ian Hislop with MK College staff, from left, Gemma Norman, job deal case manager, Ann Glover, tutor for offender learning, and Gina Reilly, area manager community projects

"We have enabled providers to support and work with offenders across the whole Thames Valley area, including volunteers from SOVA - Supporting Others Through Volunteer Action - and a range of further education colleges.

"The focus of the Bridge to Employment programme has been to provide offenders with the vocational and employability skills required to move forward with their lives as they return to the community.

"The numerous organisations we have involved in this enable us to provide a personalised service to meet the needs of the individual. We believe this provision is an important element of their rehabilitation and ultimately plays a key role in reducing the chances of reoffending."

Lending a hand: BTCV project officer Monique van Assouw with volunteers renovating the Wildlife Garden at the Hanson Environmental Centre

A green-fingered outdoor workout

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

IF YOU'RE tired of the same old exercise regime then a new green gym could be for you.

Every Thursday as well as each fourth Saturday, from 9.30am to 1pm, activities to improve fitness and health, at the same time as benefiting the environment, are being held by social enterprise group BTCV.

The Green Gym will work in a variety of green areas, such as the Hanson Environmental Centre, the Blue Lagoon and Bradwell Abbey, with activities such as revitalising a wildlife garden, clearing reeds and cutting or raking a wildlife meadow.

On Thursday the second Green Gym session took place, with an area in front of the Woodland Hide in the Hanson Environmental Centre cleared of overgrown vegetation in less than three hours.

Monique van Assouw, BTCV community project officer, said: "This is what the Green Gym is all about, making your muscles work and increasing your heart rate, doing valuable conservation work in beautiful surroundings. All with a great group of people you have fun with. You don't even realise you are working out."

Everybody is invited to join in and to avoid injury and muscle strain each session is started and finished with stretches, as well as a mid-session cup of tea and biscuit.

For more details call Monique on 07801 686 027, or email ggmilton-keynes@btcv.org.uk. If you are a group, club, school or church that needs a hand to improve a green space, get in touch.

Plan for wind turbines sent to authority

Looking to the future: What the Stoke Heights wind park would look like if it is given the go-ahead by Milton Keynes Council

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

AN APPLICATION for a 15-turbine wind park has been submitted to Milton Keynes Council.

And if built, residents in the nearby villages could benefit from a yearly fund of more than £30,000 donated by the energy company, Ecotricity.

The Stoke Heights wind park, which would be built next to the M1 north near Stoke Goldington, would generate enough electricity to power 25,000 homes and save more than 36,000 tonnes of CO2 being ejected into the atmosphere every year.

Around 300 people attended three public exhibitions held by the company in April in Stoke Goldington and Hanslope, in which company representatives heard the views of residents and answered any questions they had about the park.

Mike Cheshire, spokesman for Ecotricity, said: "We've listened very carefully to local people's views before submitting this project, and refined the number of windmills in our final proposal to 15 to bring about the greatest environmental benefit for the least environmental impact.

"This wind park will make a vital contribution to the provision of clean energy in Buckinghamshire, and that's something I think everyone should feel proud of.

"We all use electricity, so we all have a say, and a responsibility, to decide where it comes from now and for future generations."

And should the park get the go-ahead, the company will set up a 'community fund', which would equate to around £34,500 for each year the park is operational, for residents to use how they see fit.

A decision on the park is expected in the autumn.

On the run - but it's all for a good cause

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

MORE than 1,500 runners will be pounding the city's streets on Sunday as they take part in the annual NSPCC half marathon.

Setting off at 10am from Bury Lawn School in Stantonbury, the route takes in some of the most scenic areas of Milton Keynes with a route along redways and the Grand Union Canal.

And the children's charity says it expects to raise more than £50,000, which will go towards its ChildLine school service.

Sally Phipps, community fundraising manager, said: "The service is focussed on school-aged children in every community and teaching them what abuse and bullying is, and how to protect themselves and get help if they need it.

"Every penny raised will make a difference."

Of the runners registered so far, 15 teams representing local businesses will take part, with sponsor Baker Tilly hoping to defend its crown from last year.

Ms Phipps also said she believes the course records, set by Olympic runner Liz Yelling and Phill Sly, could be broken this year.

"We have got a very strong field of runners," she said. "We are very excited about the prospect of the race - it's a big event in the Milton Keynes sporting calendar."

Runners can still register on the morning at a cost of £25, and need to be at the school by 8.15am.

down a storm at stadiummk

MARVIN, Aston, Oritse, JB and a few star guests dropped in on Friday as 20,000 screaming fans packed the first gig held at stadiummk.

JLS played their hits to a rain-soaked crowd with support from Olly Murs, Alexis Jordan and The Kixx.

MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman said: "As expected the people of Milton Keynes embraced the first non-sports event to be held at stadiummk and it was fantastic to see over 20,000 spectators enjoying the performances of two of the biggest names in pop music in JLS and Olly Murs.

"Not even the rain could dampen their spirits. We have received great feedback from the bands, who all enjoyed performing in front of the crowd at stadiummk.

"We designed the stadium with the anticipation of concerts being held and as a venue it worked very well, as with any event we have learnt an awful lot and we will certainly look forward to hosting more concerts in the future."

JLS and Olly Murs wow the crowds

Rob's Big Frog leap to capture young minds

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

THE former principal of Milton Keynes College hopes to get youngsters reading and put the city on the map with his first ever book.

Rob Badcock has turned author and written Big Frog, a novel set in a very different Britain of the near future.

Radical changes to the environment have taken place and rainforest now covers most of the Earth, forcing millions to leave for a new planet.

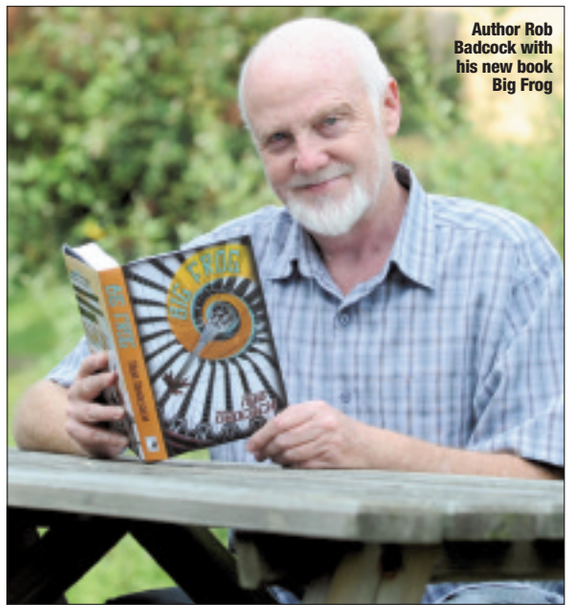
However, a few have remained and are now living in vast domes, including 14-year-old Rib Meskitoe, the star of the book.

He steals a winning lottery ticket worth $250million and suddenly finds himself on the run as a fugitive.

Mr Badcock, 60, who retired from the college in January, said: "For all of my professional life I was aware that some young people were not switched on to reading when leaving school.

"I wanted to write an adventure novel to help capture their imaginations."

Big Frog, described as an 'entertaining and zany novel' is aimed at 14 to 21-year-olds but Mr Badcock thinks that anyone with a sense of humour or adventurous side will enjoy it.



Author Rob Badcock with his new book Big Frog

In the story Milton Keynes lives on as one of the domes, and Mr Badcock always planned to include the city.

"I've worked here for the past 15 years and it means a lot to me," he said.

"I wanted to counter the myth that Milton Keynes is a concrete jungle, as it's really a forest."

Mr Badcock will be signing copies of his book at Waterstones in Midsummer Place on Saturday, between 9am and 4pm.

Alex's rare deal's the perfect hand

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

Rare: Alex Glennie with his winning cards

A CARDS player was left rubbing his eyes in disbelief after he drew the rarest hand imaginable.

Cribbage enthusiast Alex Glennie, who lives in Bletchley, was dealt the game's top hand of 29, an event which is almost unheard of.

As he was playing with three other players, the odds of what happened are about 700,000/1.

Mr Glennie's hand was the jack of clubs, the five of hearts, the five of diamonds and the five of spades, which set up the possibility of the perfect combination.

Crucially, the pack was then cut to reveal the five of clubs, which matched the suit of the jack and scored him the maximum number of points available.

The 78-year-old's cards have now been framed to mark the once-in-a-lifetime occasion and he acknowledges that he'll never see the perfect hand again.

He said: "I've been playing cribbage since I was ten and I've never seen it before.

"After the first four cards had been dealt I said 'go on then, cut me the five of clubs' but I never expected it to happen.

"My heart was in a flutter and I was told that there was more chance of winning the lottery than what happened, so I'm going to buy a ticket."

Despite the top hand, Mr Glennie was still unsuccessful in winning the game overall.

BROUGHTON is full of surprises!

Broughton lies to the east of Milton Keynes. It is one of the original villages and its name comes from "brotone". It was recorded in the Domesday Book.

It is in a tranquil setting with delightful old buildings surrounding the village church. It is ideally positioned for access to the M1 motorway at Junction 14. The city centre is just a few minutes away by car.

Good public transport links and sustainable transport is encouraged by the provision of redways for either cycling or walking.

In recent years massive expansion in Broughton has taken place. There is now a large number of new and affordable flats and houses available to buy, conveniently located near local amenities including a Budgens store, Family Butchers, Beauty Salon, Dry cleaners and more.

Broughton has lots to offer so why not visit today.

Contest was 'great moment in my life'

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A HEAD chef has narrowly missed out on being crowned the country's king of curry in a recent competition.

Saj Khan, head chef from Calcutta Brasserie in Stony Stratford, was officially named the second best chef in the whole of the UK at the Britain's Best Indian Chef 2011 competition, held at Oxford & Cherwell Valley College on Wednesday, June 29.

Out of 430 applicants from around the country, including a few from Milton Keynes, Saj was shortlisted to the last nine and tasked to cook a three-course meal in the grand final in front of an on-looking panel of judges.

Saj said: "This is a great moment in my life and one that I have worked very hard for.

"I love cooking, it is my passion and inspired by my mother's own cooking, which I believe rests within me for life.

"Next year I aim to be number one."

The judges selected Saj as the runner-up for his talent in the kitchen, knowledge and creativity with Indian spices.

To start with he cooked Ajwaini sea bass and for the main course, spice-crusted rack of lamb - marinated with rosemary and garam massala, then seared and roasted, served with a traditional home-style sauce with an accompaniment of caju and nariyal rice.

Award-winning: Saj Khan from Calcutta Brasserie with his trophy

For dessert he made, apple and chocolate crisp pan cake.

Now Calcutta Brasserie will be offering customers the chance to taste the meal that crowned him as one of the best in the country.

Geared up to keep drivers safe

A VEHICLE hire company has launched a drivers' guide to road safety.

Northgate Vehicle Hire in Milton Keynes has written the guide in association with road safety charity Brake to give essential advice to motorists and businesses with commercial vehicles.

Northgate regional sales manager Mark Emond said: "We have produced the guide to give our customers a quick access guide for safe driving practices."

Kate aims to get kids into work

AN 'HR Headmistress' is tackling youth unemployment with free nationwide workshops.

Stony Stratford-based Kate Russell, one of the UK's foremost HR authors, consultants and public speakers, has created the workshops, called Build and Fly Your Own Rocket, to help prepare school leavers for the workplace.

The programme has so far been presented at schools in the area and has been getting an enthusiastic welcome from the children, careers councillors and school and college headteachers.

Ms Russell said: "Initially the workshops will be offered on a regional basis, but we aim to roll them out to schools across the UK.

"I have seen so many young people leaving school who are hopelessly ill prepared for the workplace. The problem is too many young people are starting off life almost unemployable because they lack skills and confidence, and often their conduct in the recruitment process is not up to scratch.

"I want to do something practical by giving a reality check before they job hunt, and get their expectations set in a realistic fashion about what it takes to secure and hold down a job.

"Build and Fly Your Own Rocket primarily deals with attitude and approach, the two key ingredients needed to get a job."

The future's Briteyellow for Wi-Fi

CITY company Briteyellow has released its second generation instant Wi-Fi hotspot service manager, which is a complete management system for controlling Wi-Fi hotspots deployed anywhere in the world.

The advanced service management architecture allows simple tasks such as splash pages and walled gardens and introduces advanced new media service controls to serve advertising and content to smart phones. This type of functionality and performance is normally only available from larger operators and it can cost tens of thousands of pounds.

But the technology is now available to everyone who is looking for a simple and powerful management system for their hotspot, from owners of single stand-alone hotspots to multi-site global retailers.

Briteyellow is a specialist multi-wireless communications operator.

The privately held company launched one of the first wireless city projects in the UK in Milton Keynes and helped to pioneer the types of high performance wide area networks used by smartphones and iPad devices everywhere.

SIMON DARNELL

SWAGGER JAGGER
Cher Lloyd

THIS is thoroughly, desperately, completely awful; in fact, if this isn't the worst debut single I've heard in my entire life it has to be comfortably inside the top three.

For one thing, what the hell is a Swagger Jagger?

It's never explained, but what I do know is that the lyrics are childishly bad.

My interpretation of it is that "Everyone's talking about me, but I don't care because I'm laughing all the way to the bank," and to be honest there's not a lot more to it than that. It doesn't help that the melody used in the chorus sounds very, very close to Oh My Darling Clementine, but worse than that is the way she implores her listeners repeatedly to "get on the floor."

I'm pretty sure there are bank robbers who could only dream of sounding as demanding as Ms Lloyd when they say that.

As for the rest of the tune, I'm not sure, is there one? I couldn't find much evidence myself; yeah, there are sounds and effects, but nothing that I'd actually call a finished tune.

The daft thing is that the entire running time is three minutes and 11 seconds, yet the last 30 seconds (at least) sound as though they're there to pad out the song.

On the bright side, the singer definitely sounds as though she's enjoying herself (good for her), but when I use the word "singer" I'll be honest with you, I'm using it in the same way that I'd describe Sooty as a public speaker.

I'm sure she can sing, but she's chosen a song that instead requires her to yap inanities to the listener while affecting the least convincing American accent since Jason Statham in The Transporter.

Surely, if you're going to release a first single you should make it a statement of intent that says "this is what I can do."

Jessie J did a similar thing to Cher by releasing the dire Do It Like A Dude first, but she also had Price Tag in reserve which proved her versatility and justified the hype.

What's Cher Lloyd got to offer the world after this?

Whatever it is, it has got to be better.

HEART FM COLUMN

HEART breakfast show presenters Stuart and Natalie wake you up each weekday morning and write to you each week in MK NEWS.

This week we caught up with the Hollywood legend that is Tom Hanks who was in town to promote his brand new rom-com Larry Crowne, in which not only does he star, but also directs and produces.

The film also stars Julia Roberts, who he starred alongside in Charlie Wilson's War.

Tom told us: "I called Julia up and said this is a business call, will you let me be your boss for a while?" He wanted her to play an intimidating teacher and revealed: "Julia is intimidating in many ways, one is because she's so striking, her personality is so great, she's so smart and can be so tough."

He then went on to say: "When you have Julia and I in a movie, it takes care of an awful lot of shorthand regarding the character," which in non-Hollywood speak, we think means box office hit.

We also chatted with Supernanny Jo Frost and had a bit of fun posing spoof problems we've had with one another (if you have kids, you'll relate to some of these).

We started with Stuart's tantrums in supermarkets, Jo advised: "Do you set up expectations? Do you say we are going to go in now, get what we came in for and then get out and no you can't have anything from the counter?" We do now.

On Natalie throwing her food across the room? Jo suggested: "You need to implement some hard discipline," and on Stuart throwing a tantrum about his outfit and taking it off in public, Jo said: "Why don't you give him a choice of two."

Stuart and Natalie present Heart Breakfast Monday to Friday from 6-10am on Heart 103.3FM.

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

MILTON KEYNES THEATRE

ALARMS AND EXCURSIONS

Until Saturday

"FRENZY is the best way to describe it," says actor Robert Daws, of the offstage activity during a performance of Alarms and Excursions.

"It's very, very, very, very difficult technically; from the front, it looks very simple but underwater our legs are kicking like mad."

Robert, Belinda Lang (2.4 Children), Aden Gillet (The House of Elliot) and Serena Evans (The Thin Blue Line) are swimming for all they're worth through Michael Frayn's wonderful pick 'n' mix selection of eight mini plays that examine the hidden terrors behind modern technology.

For the actors it's a challenge; not least because all four of them have to multi-task assuming many different characters throughout the course of the evening.

"We started off thinking that we'd make each character different," says Robert, "but if anything gets in the way of the writing - like acting - it makes it more difficult!

"You have to keep it simple to allow the characters to come through; to step out of the way and let Frayn's words do it for you.

"In most plays you follow a clear narrative but this feels more like a revue."

Robert Daws: Alarms and Excursions

Ampthill-based Robert is best known for his long-running role as Dr Gordon Ormerod, playing alongside his real-life wife Amy Robbins (Dr Jill Weatherill), in the ITV drama The Royal.

But he's also familiar to TV audiences from his appearances in Outside Edge, Roger, Roger and as randy cinema manager Ernie Raynor in Rock and Chips.

In the mayhem that ensues from playing 24 different characters in eight separate pieces it's not surprising that things occasionally get confused.

"I started one play with a Welsh accent," says Robert, "and then I got this look from the other actors as it was the wrong play."

Alarms and Excursions is a revealingly satirical example of how modern gadgets and gizmos have a habit of getting their own back on us.

Even at home, modern technology seems to elude Robert literally.

"I've got three kids and Amy loves her telly so, much as I'd love to be master of my own remote control, the main challenge is finding the thing in the first place. It usually turns up down the back of the sofa or in a lunch box!"

MK GALLERY

NEW ART MK: EIGHT ARTISTS

Until September 18

JAMIE Chalmers, aka Mr X Stitch, is on a mission is to bring the world of cross stitch and embroidery to a whole new audience.

And just maybe his exhibits in MK Gallery's current New Art MK exhibition will help him achieve this.

Described by some as the King of Contemporary Embroidery, Jamie has been cross stitching for years and speaks passionately about its benefits which he describes as being relaxing, meditative, creative, and sustainable.

His position as a premier 'manbroiderer' both excites and frightens him, but he is embracing the craft with both of his tattooed arms.

Examples of his small yet perfectly formed works dotted across the exhibition confound traditional expectations from the craft.

Taking inspiration from the content of spam emails received, he wittily transforms these cheeky and absurd 'electronic leftovers' using creative choices of font and colour to great effect.

Stitch master: Jamie Chalmers

But while the 'electronic fluff' originals of the internet are instantly generated, Jamie's stitched versions can take up to 20 hours to complete.

As a current MK Gallery exhibitor, Jamie was invited to select a film for the gallery's Friday Night Film programme (presented in association with Independent Cinema MK).

His choice of Pulp Fiction will be screened on Friday.

You can catch Mr X Stitch's gentler side on Friday, July 23, at MK Gallery's Family Evening, where he will be one of the artists assisting at this free evening of arts and crafts activities for young people and families, where he hopes to infect both children and adults with his enthusiasm for stitching.

Alternatively you can see Jamie on August 18 at the New Art MK In Conversation event, where he will join several other exhibitors to discuss their diverse practices and their views of the current cultural landscape of Milton Keynes and its possible future.

New Art MK: Eight Artists from Milton Keynes continues until September 18.

For full details about the exhibition and events go online at www.mkgallery.org, or call 01908 676 900.

Admission is free.

PARK LIFE

FROM bear hunts and beekeeping to bug exploration and open-air film appreciation, there's something happening in a park near you almost every day of the holidays.

Event rangers from The Parks Trust, the charity that cares for Milton Keynes' parks, organise around 200 events for all ages throughout the year.

Whether you're interested in searching for hidden pirate treasure, discovering more about dinosaurs and how the Romans lived or enjoying an outdoor performance of Roald Dahl's Fantastic Mr Fox, the trust has an extensive programme of events throughout the summer.

For a riotously, entertaining evening of open-air theatre in Campbell Park enjoy a performance of Roald Dahl's Fantastic Mr Fox or the sublime Shakespearean comedy Twelfth Night.

With brightly coloured costumes and live music Fantastic Mr Fox takes place on Friday, July 22, at 7.30pm and Twelfth Night on Friday, August 5, at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £9 per adult, £6 per child or £25 per family and can be booked online at www.theparkstrust.com.

If you prefer film to theatre you can pick from seven fantastic movies, including a drive-in showing of Ghostbusters on Friday, August 19, Sci-fi films on Saturday, August 20, and relaxing 'smooth' movies on Sunday, August 21. The drive-in movie costs £10 per car or attend any of the other movies and they're free.

For more details on all the events visit www.theparkstrust.com, or call 01908 233600 for a free events leaflet.

COMPETITION

GREAT family days out, picnics and barbecues are what summer is made for.

Just make sure you're equipped for all eventualities.

Avoid getting into a pickle if your mayo overflows on a picnic, make ice cream-covered little ones presentable in no time and don't panic when the kids spill fizzy drinks in the car by always carrying a roll of Plenty super-absorbent paper towel.

When it comes to summer entertaining, one sheet of the nation's favourite paper towel 'does Plenty', making short work of alfresco spills.

Plenty now has a fresh new look, a new Dura Lock sheet design and it continues to provide super absorbency and strength when wet, so spills and splatters won't take the shine off your summer's day.

To celebrate Plenty's new look go to www.plenty.co.uk to share your cleaning tips and enter the competition to win a year's supply of groceries, or head online to www.facebook.com/juansheet to follow the summer spills and thrills of Plenty's number one fan Juan Sheet.

In the meantime, MK NEWS has teamed up with Plenty for two of our readers to win a fantastic gas barbecue worth £129, plus a pack of new look Plenty.

To be in with a chance of winning simply answer this question: Which of these toys went on a picnic in the famous nursery rhyme? A. Rag Dolls. B. Teddy Bears. C. Toy Soldiers.

Send your entries, along with your name, address and contact details, to competition@mk-news.co.uk, or MKNEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 0DU.

The closing date for entries is Wednesday, July 20.

The winner will be selected and notified after the closing date.

The editor's decision is final.

Company or lease car returns ...

Refurbishing your fleet vehicles can save you big time. The cost of repairs from Finishing Touch is a fraction of what you could very well end up paying in penalties for returning damaged vehicles to your leasing agent / fleet provider.
Our approach to fleet repair work is simple - restore vehicles to meet the guidelines laid out in your Fleet Wear and Tear documentation so you avoid penalty fees

F1nishing Touch - Crash repair centre in Milton Keynes, Bucks

Looking for affordable repairs to your vehicle in the Milton Keynes /Buckinghamshire region?
Want high-quality workmanship with quick and friendly service from the local team with more than 30 years' combined experience? Welcome to Finishing Touch ...

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES LEAGUE

Division One

LEAGUE leaders North Crawley were forced to settle for a draw for the second week in a row, this time against struggling Biddenham.

Richard Bryce blasted an unbeaten 78 and Stewart Phillipson made 59 but the table toppers were restricted to 211/9 after being asked to bat.

Bryce also starred with the ball during Biddenham's innings, with impressive figures of 4/18, but North Crawley couldn't take the final two wickets and had to settle for a winning draw, Biddenham ending up on 165/8.

MK City closed the gap on North Crawley by hammering bottom of the table Studham by 127 runs.

City were put into bat and reached 246/9, Chris Timms hitting seven fours in his 65 and Iqbal John getting nine in his 48.

Studham never got close to the target and collapsed to 119 all out, Mohammed Shahid doing the bulk of the damage with 5/32.

Eaton Bray sit third after beating New Bradwell, now fourth, by two wickets at Bradwell Road.

It was a tough day for the batsman with New Bradwell collapsing to 93 all out in their innings, largely thanks to Andrew Norris' superb figures of 6/17.

Eaton struggled just as much and were 34/6 at one point, but 37 from Jaco Jacob steadied the ship and saw his side home.

Milton Keynes CC were well beaten by Elstow after struggling to 113 all out after 32 overs.

Steve Orchard top scored with 27 not out and Elstow cruised past the target with the loss of just three batsmen to win by seven wickets.

Newport Pagnell triumphed by 40 runs over Olney Town in a low scoring affair at Willen Road.

Opener James Fletcher hit 55 for Newport but nobody else made it past 15 in their total of just 114.

However, Fletcher, James Mead and Sam Chapman all grabbed three wickets apiece as Olney were skittled for only 74.

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE CRICKET LEAGUE

Premier Division

THERE was heartbreak for Stony Stratford who suffered an agonising three run defeat to league leaders Wollaston.

Skipper Steve Bellew won the toss and elected to bowl, and was in fine form with the ball himself, ending up with figures of 4/31.

Five of the top six were dismissed for single figure scores as Wollaston finished their innings on 161/9, giving Stony hope of victory.

The reply started well with openers Sharn Gomes (47) and Mihir Choski (40) putting Stony on their way.

However, the rest of the order collapsed dramatically with Chris Perry, who took 7/36, tearing through the top order.

Stony were eventually dismissed for 158 after being 110/1 at one stage, losing in agonising circumstances.

David Avery was the last wicket to go, falling LBW to Perry for one.

CHERWELL LEAGUE

Division One

BLETCHLEY Town suffered a six wicket home defeat to Shipton after posting a score of 142.

Kenneth Hollis top scored with 30 but 58 from Simon Hole comfortably saw Shipton through to 145/4.

ICE HOCKEY

Duo sign to add offensive clout

Lightning have retained the firepower of forwards Adam Brittle, left, and Matt Towalski. Pictures by Jez Tibbetts.

MK LIGHTNING have boosted their attacking options by securing the signatures of two key forwards.

Adam Brittle and assistant captain Matt Towalski have both agreed new deals at the club and now have trophies in their sights as Lightning prepare for the new campaign.

For Brittle, it's about righting the wrong of last season which failed to bring home any silverware.

He said: "We were all disappointed to end last season without a trophy, given the very high standards we always set ourselves and so often achieve.

"This year, with a strong British backbone to the team, I hope we can carry forward our form shown in the play-offs, to lift silverware again at the end of the year. I can't wait to be a part of that success."

Twenty-five-year-old Brittle began his career in his home town of Telford before heading south for spells with Swindon Wildcats and Wightlink Raiders.

An impressive haul of 31 goals in 52 games brought him onto Lightning's radar in 2008/9, and he moved to Milton Keynes a year later.

Towalski, 27, started his career at the Slough Jets and is now preparing for his seventh consecutive season at Lightning.

Like all of their British team mates, both players have international honours, having represented Great Britain at U18 and U20 level.

Player-coach Nick Poole welcomed the news that two more players have committed themselves again to his roster, which is now beginning to take shape.

He said: "We're thrilled to bring them both back for another year, as both are talented players that bring speed and energy to our line-up.

"I've always been an admirer of the way Adam plays, his skating and puck control are second to none on our team and he has the ability to make a play from nothing.

"Last year Adam increased his point tally from his first year, and I see him adding to his totals again this coming season.

"Matty is part of the Lightning furniture and a player we mustn't take for granted.

"He is the heartbeat of our team and the driving force on the best third line in the league."

FORMULA ONE

Webber ignores orders as pit error is costly for Vettel

RED Bull Racing claimed second and third spots on the podium at Sunday's British Grand Prix, but it was an afternoon of frustration for the city based drivers at Silverstone.

Sebastian Vettel, who was seemingly on course for a seventh race victory in nine, slipped from first to third after a disastrous pit stop on lap 27.

A rear jack failure caused a lengthy delay in fitting the left rear wheel, and Fernando Alonso nipped in front to claim a lead he would never relinquish.

The German was forced to settle for second with team mate Mark Webber third, but the Australian made the headlines for choosing to ignore team orders in the closing stages of the race.

He was instructed to 'maintain the gap' despite battling Vettel for second place, and later admitted that he was not happy with the order.

"I'm not fine with it, no," Webber said following the race.

"Of course I ignored the team and I was battling to the end."

The row has resulted in fresh speculation over Webber's future at the city-based team.

He had earlier started the weekend brightly by claiming pole position, but Vettel, on second, stormed in front of him at the start.

Webber said he didn't think of himself as a number two driver and team boss Christian Horner, while also defending the team orders, said he wanted to keep him on board.

The two will now have discussions to clear the air.

Horner said: "We did not want to see our drivers in the fence at some time in the last two laps, which is how it would have ended up.

"We could not afford to risk losing points. Mark should be fine with that, he is a team player."

Despite finishing second, Vettel's lead at the top of the F1 standings has increased to 80 points as he seemingly coasts towards a second consecutive title.

He said: "At the pit stop we had a problem, the car was already on the floor but then we had to lift it back up again. By then I had lost the lead and come out in third.

"We had some problems and if you're not at your optimum, there's always someone there to beat you."

ATHLETICS

GREG Rutherford lost his British long jump record on Friday but has vowed to regain it as soon as possible.

The Milton Keynes athlete saw his distance of 8.30m surpassed by rival Chris Tomlinson, who recorded 8.35m at a Diamond League event in Paris.

Rutherford, who leapt 8.27m and finished third, said: "Well done to Chris, he had a great night.

"I'll lend him the British record for a couple of weeks.

"I hate being beaten, but one major thing is that I've now qualified for the Olympics next year."

BASEBALL

MK BUCKS spent the weekend in Croydon competing at the annual International London Baseball Tournament.

Runs came thick and fast in their first game against Hemel Hempstead Hawks, with the result a comprehensive 22-6 victory.

The second game was a tighter affair againsts hosts Croydon Pirates.

At one stage the Bucks were 7-3 down but MK battled back to win 10-7, topping their group in the process.

On Sunday the Bucks went into the top pool where they were defeated 15-2 by Liverpool Trojans.

Their opponents featured a Team GB pitcher throwing at 80mph and Bucks were also unsuccessful in their second game, losing 10-4 to Team France.

Next up for Bucks is a clash with Nottingham Rebels.

GOLF

IAN Poulter has said that keeping his patience will be key as he prepares for The Open Championship.

The Woburn Sands pro will tee off tomorrow (Thursday) at Royal St George's, a course he has previously admitted not being a fan of.

But he pledged to remain calm as he bids to win a first major of his career.

He said: "You get bad bounces on the fairways – that's Open golf – but at Royal St George's you just seem to get an awful lot more,

"Patience will be key for me. I will try to stay as patient as possible."

Poulter was runner-up at The Open in 2008.

RUGBY UNION

OLNEY RFC are looking for new recruits to join its junior teams.

Every team makes use of fully qualified RFU coaches and children between six and 16 are welcome to give the club a try, whether they are new to rugby or not.

Leven: deal wasn't right

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

PETER Leven has admitted that he was 'gutted' to leave MK Dons but the midfielder felt that the deal he was offered wasn't good enough.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS, the Scotsman revealed that he couldn't sign the two-year deal that was on the table at stadiummk.

He left the club as a free agent and has now moved to League Two side Oxford United.

Leven, 27, was offered a verbal contract in March followed by a written two year deal in May but the deadline for this agreement came and went.

He said: "There was a contract on the table but I didn't think that offer was right.

"I didn't think I deserved what was being offered."

The midfielder's move to Oxford has shocked many as a switch to the Championship was what most expected following his departure from the Dons.

However, joining the U's has seen him drop a level into League Two, the lowest division in the Football League.

Despite this Leven said that he was joining a big and ambitious club.

He said: "I was speaking to a few clubs from the Championship and League One but in the end I chose League Two.

"The facilities here are top class, they get a good crowd every week and it's close to home. I am looking forward to the challenge, I've never had a promotion in my career."

Leven spent three years in Milton Keynes after joining in 2008 on a free transfer, following his departure from Chesterfield.

He quickly became a favourite for his performances from midfield, and picked up the club's Football Writers' Player of the Year award last season.

The time he spent at the Dons is a period he will look back upon with fondness.

"I loved it, I really enjoyed it," he said. "It's been one of the best times of my career so far."

A highlight for Leven was helping to guide the club into the play-offs twice, but there was a disappointing end to last season when a broken foot ruled him out of the two-legged clash with Peterborough.

Being forced to watch on was something he found tough but he is now back jogging again ahead of the new season.

He flew to Boston on Monday to link up with his new Oxford teammates on their American tour, but he said he would not be fit to face off against the Dons when the two clubs meet in a friendly at the Kassam Stadium on July 23.

However, Leven does hope to cross paths with those in Milton Keynes again.

He said: "I would obviously like to wish the club good luck as I was gutted to leave.

"Hopefully I can go back one day to say goodbye."

Meanwhile, Karl Robinson's side are currently training in Ireland after opening their pre-season account with a comfortable 4-1 win at St Neots Town on Saturday.

The manager ran the rule over four trialists, ex-Arsenal full back Kerrea Gilbert, former Birmingham winger Jay O'Shea, former Wolves right-back John Dunleavy and 19-year-old keeper Ian McLoughlin, who was last with Ipswich.

O'Shea has travelled to Ireland with the squad and was the trialist to impress the most at St Neots, scoring once, setting up another and hitting the bar.

Robinson said transfer activity wouldn't stop, despite the ten day tour which ends on Wednesday and includes a friendly with League of Ireland side Drogheda United.

Oxford bound: Peter Leven

A second match with St Patrick's Athletic looks increasingly unlikely as the Dublin club have been handed a trip to Kazakhstan in the Europa League.

Robinson said: "The phone never stops, the transfer business never-stops.

"I'll fly players out to meet me because I want them to come and see what we've got.

"The trialists were pleasing on the eye but there's an awful lot you've got to do before we commit to anything."

Dons fans were denied a first opportunity to see new striker Dean Bowditch on Saturday, who missed the trip to St Neots through illness.

Sam Baldock was also missing as he picked up a 'little kick' in training, and Robinson decided he had done enough not to be risked.

Lions rate Gill over NBA star

MK LIONS have ruled themselves out of the running for NBA star Ron Artest.

Rumours have been circulating that the small forward, who is one of the biggest stars in the sport, is eyeing up a shock move to the British Basketball League (BBL).

Artest has a five year deal worth an astonishing $33million with the LA Lakers, but a dispute over pay has put the entire season across the pond under threat.

The argument between NBA owners and the players' union means that some of the biggest basketball stars in the world have been given an opportunity to play the sport elsewhere.

Some have already accepted deals to play in Europe, and Artest has hinted that Britain would be his preferred destination, despite other countries being able to offer a better standard of play than the BBL.

Cheshire Jets have made their interest in Artest public, who stated on Twitter that he would be interested in joining the club.

However, Lions owner Vince Macaulay said he 'didn't know what the fuss was about' and said he was more excited about the club re-signing point guard Stefan Gill.

"I don't think Ron is going to make the Lakers team whenever the lock out finishes anyway and quite what he would do over here is pretty insignificant," Macaulay said.

"For us, re-signing exciting English guard Stefan 'The Matrix' Gill is what our club development is all about, Artest would never be able to score 40 points in games like Steff, neither is he as quick.

"I think our fans would rather have Steff than Ron."

Coach Mike New also welcomed Gill back to the Lions.

He said: "I'm delighted to return Stefan, we knew about him and his athletic ability but this past season he really stepped up at the top level.

"Now he is just maturing and will become a premier player."

More pink sacks for easier recycling

Annual deliveries of pink recycling and black refuse sacks to every household begin next week and will run until the end of September.

In an effort to encourage recycling and to help residents avoid the need to obtain additional pink sacks, each household will receive a roll of 80 pink sacks – 20 more than previously.

Residents using the successful food and garden waste collections, combined with the pink sack and blue box recycling scheme, should find they have very little non-recyclable waste left to put in their black sacks.

As a result, the number of free black sacks delivered to each household has been reduced by half to 26 sacks.

The council accepts any type of black refuse sack available from retail outlets, but additional black sacks are available to purchase at £2.60 per roll of 52 from all three Community Recycling Centres. Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council also sells black sacks.

The new black and pink sacks feature a slightly different design – while marginally shorter the sacks hold the same volume and are the same width.

The difference is in the seal at the bottom which uses less material – this presents a substantial cost saving to the council and is more environmentally-friendly.

The new pink sacks list all the new materials added to the pink sack scheme, including aerosols, waxed cartons, plastic food packaging and now worn textiles and shoes.

Cllr David Hopkins, Cabinet Member responsible for waste services said:

"We would like to thank all our residents for their continued efforts in recycling their waste which has taken our recycling rate to an impressive 52%.

The changes we are making to our weekly recycling services mean that residents can now recycle even more which saves us all money, helps to keep council tax down and, of course, is better for our environment."
